Who Are We?

Clear Impact provides performance management software, training and services to help government agencies, non-profits and foundations track the performance of their programs, measure the impact of their funding, and report on the progress of their missions to improve the lives of children, families and communities worldwide.

What Do We Do?

Our performance improvement experts work side-by-side with government leaders, executive directors, and public sector professionals to:

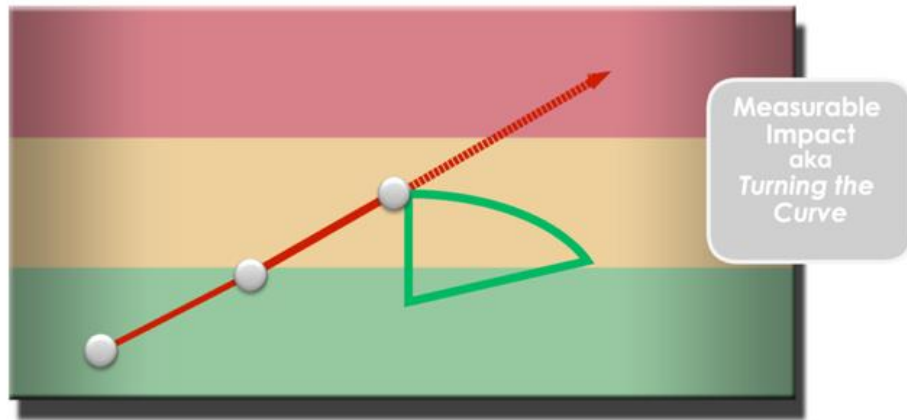

establish measurable performance expectations, identify the right data indicators and continuously monitor the progress of programs and partners to deliver long-term, measurable impact.

How Does Clear Impact Scorecard Fit Into Our Work (And Yours)?

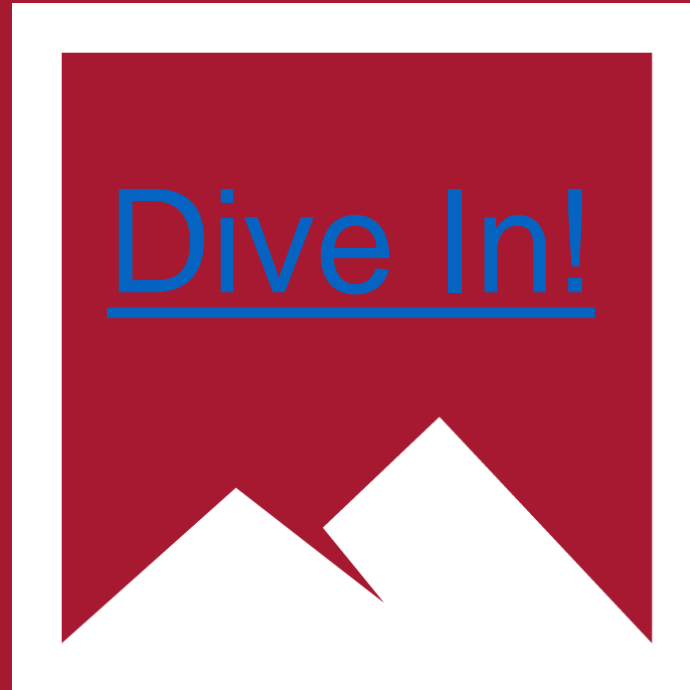

Clear Impact Scorecard is our easy-to-use, web-based software that helps program managers, grant managers and performance directors collaborate with stakeholders and community partners to simplify data collections, standardize reporting, measure progress and improve performance at scale and move beyond quantities of people served to demonstrating that communities are actually better off.
